

Job Vacancy: Project Manager

Role: Project Manager

Location: Penrith, Cumbria

Salary: £28,000 - £40,000 (depending on experience)

Hours: 40 hours per week

Are you interested in leading projects to help drive farm sustainability improvements? Map of Ag is an innovative agricultural data business, working with food processors, brands and retailers across the food industry to help them measure and improve environmental sustainability on their supplying farms.

To help deliver for our growing client base, we're looking to recruit a new Project Manager. The successful person will be responsible for the delivery of industry leading projects with Map of Ag's customers, for example measuring greenhouse gas emissions across six supply chains for a big-four UK supermarket, or verifying a range of regenerative agricultural practices for a major global grain buyer.

Job Role

As Project Manager you'll be responsible for the following areas:

- Working with the internal Account Manager to define project scope, confirm overall project objectives, determine the resource required to deliver the work
- Set out a project delivery timeline, including key milestones and appropriate timescales, and ensure the project is delivered in line with this.
- Take ownership for the project delivery, managing internal teams including the technology team and the technical consultancy, to ensure roles and responsibilities are understood and implemented.
- Ensure regular, effective communication with the customer, providing them with project updates, as well as communicating requirements from them in order to deliver the project.
- Work with the office based Client Support Team to manage clear and timely communications to farmers, to ensure maximum engagement with the customer's project.
- Providing project updates to the Account Manager, including any potential delivery risks, or possible areas where Map of Ag could support the customer further beyond the current scope.
- Reviewing project delivery and outcomes and making recommendation around system or process improvements.

Key Skills

To be successful in this role, the following skills will be required:

- Excellent communication skills to engage internal and external people working on the project.
- Ability to build rapport with individuals, particularly key customer contacts.
- Proven ability to be able to solve problems logically and make decisions.
- Dynamic and capable of working across different projects at the same time.
- Able to demonstrate leadership to work with colleagues involved with a project.
- Good attention detail, to ensure a high-quality level to project delivery.
- Familiarity with project management software and methodology is desired, but training can be provided.
- A background understanding of agricultural data is highly desirable but not essential, as training can be provided.

Further Details

This role is based in Map of Ag’s Penrith office. Occasional travel may be required to visit customers, however this would be infrequent.

The role would report to the Head of Client Services, and form part of Map of Ag’s customer delivery team, who are all based in the Penrith office.

Map of Ag is a fast growing technology company, working with customers in the UK, Ireland, EU, New Zealand and Australia, and there would be career growth opportunities in the future.
